

Otherwise They Are The Same

The mystery of the Orient but not the history, the beauty but not the cost, the radiance but not the risk!

Tecila Pearl Necklaces
with Genuine Diamond Clasps
$100 to $350

Tecila
338 Fifth Avenue, New York
10 Rue de la Paix, Paris
7 Old Bond Street, London

STUTZ

Many women hesitate to buy a car of power and speed in the belief that it is fatiguing to handle. But not the STUTZ.

Notice the number of women who drive their own STUTZES.

W. M. PARKINSON
MOTOR SALES CO., INC.

1796 BROADWAY, N. Y.
BROOKLYN - NEWARK

RAIDING RESUMED WITH INDICTMENTS

Four Corporations, Officials and Big Bootleggers Figure in Sealed Papers.

SHANLEY'S IS INVADED

Squads of Enforcement Agents Work in Uptown and Downtown Sections.

'GREEK CHARLIE' TAKEN

Held as Chief Smuggler in Liquor Traffic Along Atlantic Coast.

The Federal Grand Jury handed down to Judge Learned Hand yesterday twenty sealed indictments, four of them against corporations, in connection with the investigation into complaints of alleged law enforcement of the prohibition laws in the New York district. It is believed that Government officials and clerks as well as several notorious bootleggers and a group of politicians are named as defendants.

This move on the part of the Government was reflected in unusual activity by enforcement agents last night. Shanley's restaurant at 117 West Forty-second street was searched by one squad of agents, while another squad, operating further down town, rushed four men outside the Kentucky Distillers' Warehouse Company's establishment at 750 Washington street and arrested them on charges of conspiring to defraud the Government through the use of counterfeit withdrawal permits. Three men, one of them James Rowley, the manager, were arrested at Shanley's.

At the Federal Court Building it was learned that the indictments handed down were sealed at the request of Maxwell S. Mattuck, Assistant United

$10,000,000 Wanted for Dry Enforcement

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.

VOLSTEAD law enforcement will require $10,000,000 of Government appropriations in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1922.

That sum was included in the estimates sent to Congress to-day by the Budget Bureau.

The estimate is $2,500,000 above the amount allowed by Congress for enforcement of the prohibition laws during the current fiscal year.

It is proposed by Commissioner Haynes to increase the number of dry agents and inspectors from 1,248 to 1,998 men. Their salaries are to range from $1,200 to $2,500.

Estimates for travel allowance were fixed at $2,531,000, an increase of $750,000 over current appropriations for the present.

States Attorney, who had charge of the examination of witnesses before the Grand Jury. Until the Government agents have rounded up the men named in the presentments the seals will be left intact.

The Raid on Shanley's.

One of the witnesses called at the Grand Jury's investigation was Harold L. Hart, who resigned the post of Federal prohibition director for New York last October.

In addition to giving attention to the evidence against the men indicted yesterday, it was reported, the Grand Jury has been busy prying into the circumstances of the theft of 300 liquor withdrawal permits from the local office and the subsequent presentation of some of them at bonded warehouses in Philadelphia.

The raid at Shanley's was in charge of Agent Mangin. With two other agents he entered the restaurant early in the evening and went directly to the kitchen. There he seized what he said was bottled whiskey. Some excitement was caused among the diners in the restaurant when Rowley, Hugh McLaughlin, head waiter, of 639 Ninth avenue, and John McMurphy, steward, of 452 West Fifty-second street, were placed under arrest on charges of illegally possessing liquor.

A crowd gathered at the door of the restaurant as Rowley and the others were led out to a taxi. They were taken to the West Forty-seventh street police station and detained there for the Government.

Enlight Rule Admired.

Efforts were made by the prisoners to obtain bail at once. The lieutenant in charge of the desk said he had orders from Commissioner Enright to accept no bail in Federal liquor cases unless it was accepted in person by the proper officials of the Government. He told the three men that he wouldn't let them out even for a Supreme Court Justice, and he refused to let Mangin withdraw the charge so that the men might go free until morning. A consultation followed and finally United States Commissioner Hitchcock was prevailed on to go from his home in Brooklyn to the police station and accept $1,000 cash bail for each prisoner.

Commissioner Hitchcock later went to Police Headquarters and accepted $2,500 bail each for the four men arrested in the Washington street raid. The prisoners included John Tomasselli, truckman, of 36 West Forty-third street; James Sabille, 163 Mulberry street; Alfred Trolie, 1362 Seventy-second street, Brooklyn, and Lawrence Varrilli, also of that borough. Tomasselli was the chauffeur of a big truck which, it is alleged, was driven up to the Washington street warehouse where Agents Loya and O'Brien were waiting to verify a report of an attempted withdrawal.

"Charlie the Greek" Arrested.

Varelli arrived at the warehouse in a big touring car which was missing after his arrest. The men said they had met there to square a debt. They were questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Mattuck at the Federal Building. News reached this city yesterday that "Charlie the Greek," known only as "Charlie the Greek" and sought since August 1 in connection with the landing of liquor from ships at sea, is under arrest in Harrisburg, Pa., and will be brought back immediately to face indictments that stand against him. Scandalis, it is charged, is the man who met booze ships from the Bahamas at various points on the Atlantic coast south of Nantucket and paid over the money for the booze. His address in Harrisburg, it was said, came into the possession of the Government through the inspection of a memorandum book found in the pocket of a man arrested for bootlegging.

Federal agents said yesterday that Scandalis represents one of the biggest syndicates now engaged in liquor smuggling. This syndicate, it was said, is known to have landed 20,000 cases of liquor along the coast since last February. Already six other men have been arrested as members of the gang.

It was announced by Ralph A. Day, Federal Prohibition Director for the State, that the contemplated shake-up of the Brooklyn bureau probably would take place to-day.

MINE TO CURB DRUNKENNESS.

Will Suspend or Discharge Intoxicated Employees.

LEAD, S. D., Dec. 5.—Intoxication among its employees has become too frequent, the Homestake Mining Company declared to-day.

Notices were posted that any employee reporting for work in an intoxicated condition would be laid off for thirty days on the first offence and discharged on the second.

FIVE CONFESS PLOT TO SLAY, SAY COPS

Hired at $1,600 to Murder Business Rival of Employer, Is Charge.

VICTIM SPARED FOR $700

Chicken Is Killed and Man Is Smeared and Bandaged to Appear Beaten Up.

Confessions that the New York and New Jersey City police say they obtained yesterday from five men arrested on charges of conspiracy to murder revealed a story of hired bravos who frightened their intended victim into paying them $700 to spare his life and then, to convince their employer they were honestly trying to kill, smeared his face with chicken blood and exhibited him swathed in bandages. They explained that success would surely follow their second attempt.

The prisoners are Paul Fortunio of 42 Gilchrist street, and Salvatore La Judica, 31 Logan street, both of Jersey City, and Vito Papresti, 514 East Sixteenth street; Joseph Di Stefano, 131 avenue A, and Vincenzo Rizzo, 512 East Fourteenth street, all of Manhattan.

The intended victim of the alleged murder pact is Salvatore Pecoraro of 354 Fourth street, Jersey City, owner of the New York and Hoboken Transportation Company and in the fertilizer business, as is Fortunio. Business rivalry was blamed by the police. They contend that La Judica was to get $1,600 for the killing and he came to Manhattan and engaged Papresti, Di Stefano and Rizzo to do the work.

The confessions, it is alleged, say that Fortunio gave them only $200 of the amount promised, so they decided to bargain with Pecoraro as well. They told him frankly, it is alleged, they had agreed to kill him but would—for $500—agree that no harm should come to him. Pecoraro agreed to the figure and gave his check for $500 on account.

Fortunio is said to have pressed La Judica for action whereupon the chicken blood was rubbed over Pecoraro's face and he was exhibited to an agent sent by Fortunio to see how matters were progressing.

Pecoraro, according to the story he told the police, was continually threatened with death unless he made further payments. Finally, when he had turned over $700 he decided he might as well die as to lose all his property, and acting on the advice of Anthony Boia, his counsel, he told his story to the police.

Fortunio was arraigned before Magistrate William Driscoll in Jersey City yesterday and held in $5,000 bail for a hearing Monday. He denies all knowledge of the alleged conspiracy and says he does not even know Pecoraro.

LOCAL OPTION ON BEER PUT FORWARD IN HOUSE

Hill Bill Evades Committee Headed by Volstead.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Sale of beer and light wine would be permitted in Congressional districts in which voters expressed approval under a bill introduced to-day by Representative Hill, Republican (Maryland). The measure, which provides a manufacturers' tax of 20 cents a gallon on beer and 40 cents a gallon on wine, was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Previous prohibition legislation in the House invariably has gone to the Judiciary Committee, on which Representative Volstead, Republican (Minnesota), is chairman.

Mr. Hill at the last session offered a bill to repeal the Volstead act, but no action has been taken on his proposal by the Judiciary Committee.

PROSECUTOR IS FINED; SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Court Waits Developments in Rum Running Case.

HARTFORD, Dec. 5.—Guilty of blackmail, but not guilty of accepting a bribe, was the decision of Judge Wolfe of the Superior Court to-day in the case against Albert A. Greenberg, Prosecutor in New Britain, who was tried last week on the two counts.

Judge Wolfe sentenced Greenberg to pay a fine of $500 and to six months in jail, suspended the jail sentence and placed the accused in charge of the probation officer of New Britain. In suspending the sentence the Judge remarked that there might be developments in the six months that would cause the Court to order execution of the sentence.

The Greenberg case was one of the run ring disclosures brought about by State's Attorney Alcorn and the arrest of Detective Sergeant Andrew J. Richardson.

Kaskel & Kaskel

Announce a Removal Sale of Finely Christmas Interest

THE FIRST SALE IN 55 YEARS

THIS uncommon event, the first Kaskel & Kaskel sale in almost a lifetime, is occasioned only by the fact that our two stores are soon to be consolidated in new and more spacious quarters.

Preliminary to this removal, attractive selections of desirable merchandise are offered at substantial reductions—a story told with even greater significance by the displays in the two stores.

NECKWEAR Silk and Silk-Knitted Cravats and Bow Ties. 1.50 2.00 3.00	MUFFLERS Silk or Wool, solid colors and combinations. 4.00 6.00 17.50
HOSIERY Lisle and Wool: plain and clocked. 1.00 1.25 1.50	SWEATERS Sweet-er-coats, Vests and Slip-ons for town and sports wear. 10.00 15.00 18.00
HANDKERCHIEFS Linen, block printed and fancy borders. 1.50 and 2.00 each	LOUNGING ROBES Exactly tailored: fabrics of selected designs and hues. 18.00 30.00 55.00

Merchandise bought at Reduced Prices is Not Subject to Return

316 FIFTH AVENUE Two Stores
Corner 32nd Street
535 FIFTH AVENUE
At 44th Street

The Man's Shop

Express Elevators to Tenth Floor.

Neckwear
$1 to $3.50

They are always appreciated as a gift. Our collection is unrestricted in imported and domestic neckwear of opulent quality and compelling beauty.

Initiated Handkerchiefs
$2, $3, $6 (Box of Six)

A man can't accumulate too many. Linen hemstitched handkerchiefs with embroidered initials convey a personal touch.

Wool Sweaters
$7.50 to $45

A distinctive gift—one of these imported or domestic wool sweaters or waistcoats. In many interesting combinations and shades. They insure comfort beneath the coat.

The Spirit of Gifts

Selecting gifts for men is not a difficult problem when the range of choice is adequate. THE MAN'S SHOP is a specialist in gifts which are appropriate, practical, and individual. Everything that the man likes is here in just the way he likes it.

Europe and America have contributed their finest handiwork to our collection of approved items. Many of them are unique and individual to us—and anyone can select his gifts with the certainty that they are correct and timely.

Tax not included

Gloves
$2.50 to $5

Gloves are in the category of gifts always appreciated. Tan capes, gray mochas, chamis—with plain spear backs or fancy embroidered backs.

Lounging Slippers
$5.50 to $8.50

Every man needs a pair of slippers. Comfort is inherent in these of kid or light calfskin—in tan, wine, black, green. They are kid lined and smart.

Smoking Jackets

Smoking jackets in velvet, matelasse, and double-faced cloth—for the lounging hour in the den, or to throw on when the dinner coat is discarded.

The Country Christmas is the Fashionable Christmas

IF you are about to accept an invitation to spend the Holidays in the country, Lord & Taylor can furnish the proper encouragement in the matter of sports clothes, or can suggest the authoritative thing to give the sportswoman of your acquaintance.

Sports Apparel Department
THIRD FLOOR
Millinery Department
FOURTH FLOOR

Shoe Department
SECOND FLOOR
Accessory Departments
FIRST FLOOR

Heather Plaid Stockings, $5.50

Beautiful soft quality of wool, woven in various heather plaid combinations, all lovely soft tones.

GROUND FLOOR

New Sports Blouses

An indispensable to any sports costume is this wash blouse tailored of imported dimity, banded with French blue linen and piped on the very with orange linings—the smartest sports blouse we've seen this season and the newest. $6.50

The Knicker Suit

It is such things as this that account for the irresistible attraction of sports—a knicker suit of imported heather mixture, ($45, Third Floor) and a flame duvetyne scarf and cap set gaily embroidered, ($40, First Floor).

An Inverness

Doesn't the suggestion of a fringed Inverness cape make you want to leave all else for the Adirondack Snows? This is just one of many equally smart and practical suggestions the Woman's Coat Department has to offer, $35.

New Tweed Suits

The smartest all-round town and country costume is the new tweed suit—collared with racoon, Australian opossum or nutria. The same model a little more for town than country is developed in cheviot, both nominally priced at $39.50.

THIRD FLOOR

Lord & Taylor
FIFTH AVENUE

THIRD FLOOR

Lord & Taylor
38th Street FIFTH AVENUE 39th Street